Note of Thanks

I appreciate very much the many people who took the time and effort to attend the celebration of my 80th birthday and retirement from managing the production of this paper and the bookstore. It has been a long and sometimes stressful job but it has also been rewarding because of the opportunities for service. I thank you for providing those opportunities and for expressing your well wishes at this time.

Not only do I appreciate those who attended and expressed their sentiments but also the many who mailed in cards, phoned or sent e-mail messages. Many of the messages were such that all I will need to do, if I'm having a bad day, is get them out and read them. Thanks for providing these nice words of encouragement. They are treasured.

I hope to be able to continue to serve but without the constant pressure of meeting deadlines. My best wishes are with those who will continue the paper and the bookstore service.

Eugene C. Perry
